Overview

Much like light being broken into its constituent spectral colors, social justice work reflects our values and can polarize our realities. The Prism Initiative brings out our personal responsibility, clarifies diverse lived lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer experiences across race, class, faith, to name a few, and better prepares our collective action towards inclusion.

Beyond The 3Bs: Binaries, Boxes & Budgets

Join us for an intensive, student affairs focused drive-in workshop that incorporates your campus climate, knowledge levels, and action steps. Let's have a discussion that pushes the envelope of a typical LGBT training and move through reclaiming language, sexual diversity, gender advocacy, and building ally coalitions on our campuses. Standing at the intersection of race, class, age, size, faith, sexual identity, gender expression, and other visible and invisible identities, this dialogue focuses on the realities of your regional politics, reframes your resource constraints, and provides a space for planning. Pick up where you may feel stopped, stagnant, frustrated, and maybe even supported and we can build coalitions for inclusive development of organizational work.

The workshop will begin with registration and a continental breakfast (8:00–8:30am). The session will run from 8:30am – 4pm with a break for lunch.

Target Audience

This drive-in workshop is open to community activists, undergraduate students and college student educators at all levels -- student affairs professionals, faculty, administrators, undergraduate and graduate students.
